Trail Blazing Success In the City of Roses

From a forgotten raincoat in sunny Los Angeles one February morning in 1970 to one of today's most innovative, diverse and successful franchises in all of professional sports, the Portland Trail Blazers are a unique story. The story includes one NBA Championship, a solid run at two others, the opening of a brand new arena, and the growth of the franchise into one of the league's most successful operations.

February 4, 1970: Birth of the Blazers

February 4, 1970 is the Blazer franchise's cornerstone date. On that Wednesday in February, Harry Glickman, Portland entreprenuer and professional sports promoter, carried a proposal for an NBA franchise in his city to the league's expansion committee meeting at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel in Los Angeles. Glickman, now president emeritus of the Trail Blazers, left the meeting anything but encouraged. Not only had the league raised the price of entry for new franchises to nearly double the amount Glickman had assembled from local investors, but less than enthusiastic support came from some team owners about Portland's bid. Ned Irish, president of the New York Knicks and Madison Square Garden was thinking of market identity, and figured Portland, Oregon, didn't have much. "How many people will we draw with Portland's name on the Garden marquee?" he asked his colleagues.

It was a dark hour for Glickman. He departed from the meeting in expansion committee chairman Abe Pollin's room, ready to return home and give up on the dream. Down in the hotel lobby, he remembered he had left his raincoat upstairs. When he returned to retrieve it, Pollin, owner of the Washington (then Baltimore) Bullets, was on the telephone. "It's for you Harry. Someone named Sarkowsky is on the line...."

It was Herman Sarkowsky, a successful Seattle land and real estate developer, who earlier had told Glickman he wasn't interested in joining the Portland investors' group but might put up all the money if he could get two other developer friends, Larry Weinberg of Los Angeles and Robert Schmertz of New Jersey, to join him. Glickman had not heard from Sarkowsky in several days but the phone call changed it all.

More than 100,000 Blazermaniacs jammed Broadway from one end to the other on Monday, June 6, 1977 to celebrate Portland's win over Philadelphia the day before, clinching the city's first-ever major sports championship.

Sarkowsky told Harry that Weinberg was eager to buy into an NBA franchise and "Schmertz is in; we're set." Armed with new terms and solid backers, Glickman presented a new deal to the committee. Two days later, Feb. 6, 1970, the NBA Board of Governors granted an expansion franchise to Portland, one of three teams (Cleveland and Buffalo were the others) to begin operations in 1970-71. It was the first step in an amazing run that has been the Portland Trail Blazers success story ever since.

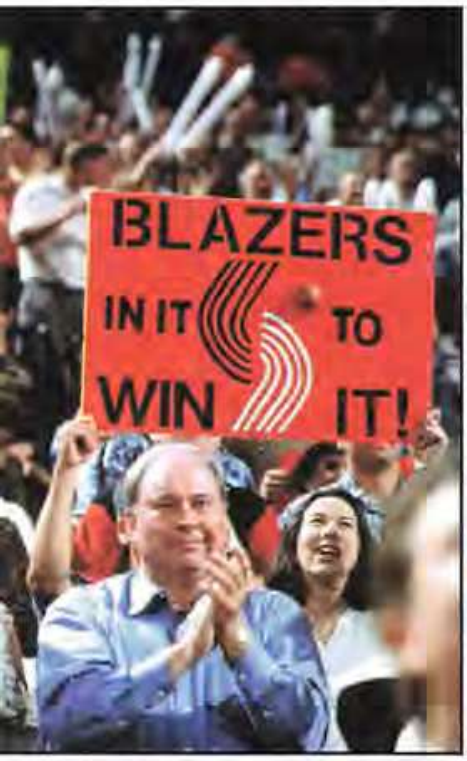
June 5, 1977: Blazermania

Portland's seven-year-old franchise, in the NBA playoffs for the first time in 1977, would do what only one other team in the history of the league had ever done: Win a championship in its first post-season appearance. After finishing second in the Pacific Division and with the Western Conference's third-best record, the young Blazers club ousted Chicago in a tough best-of-three first round playoff collision. That was followed by a Conference Semifinals win over Midwest Division champ Denver in six games, and a sweep of the Los Angeles Lakers for the Western Conference title.



Portland then took on the Philadelphia 76ers in the Finals. After falling behind in the series, 0-2, the Blazers won four straight, capping the amazing turnaround with a tension-filled 109-107 victory in Memorial Coliseum. That win, on a beautiful Sunday afternoon, sent the Rose City into a frenzy; Portland had its first ever major sports championship and Blazermania became a part of the sports lexicon from coast to coast.

Actually, Blazermania began two months before. On April 8, 1977, a capacity crowd packed Memorial Coliseum to watch the Blazers take on the Phoenix Suns. From that date on until Nov. 20, 1995---a string of 814 contests---every regular and post season contest was a sellout. It was the longest known sellout string in the history of professional sports.

May 31, 1988: Paul Allen Acquires Blazers

On May 31, 1988, Paul G. Allen purchased the Trail Blazers from Larry Weinberg, declaring "I know the Blazers have great fans. They deserve our best efforts to provide a winning and exciting team."

Allen, a Seattle area computer magnate who co-founded Microsoft with Bill Gates, has been true to his promise. A year after acquiring the team, he was courtside as the Trail Blazers played Detroit in the NBA Finals. Two years later, he was there again, this time to watch them against Michael Jordan and the Chicago Bulls. In between, Portland made its second consecutive Western Conference Finals appearance. Seven years later, the Trail Blazers were knocking on the door again, making it to the WC Finals two years in a row. During Allen's tenure, the Trail Blazers have won 61 percent of their games (783-497), have been in the playoffs 15 lines and continued a post season run that reached 21 in a row, the second longest in NBA history.

Trail Blazers basketball hasn't been the only thing to put Portland in the national and international limelight during Paul Allen's tenure as Chairman. In 1992, the NBA Draft was held in the Memorial Coliseum, the first time the nationally-televised event had taken place outside New York. That same year, Portland played host to the Basketball Tournament of the Americas. It was a world-wide televised event that launched the original "Dream Team," more specifically Team U.S.A., featuring such stars Michael Jordan, David Robinson, Patrick Ewing and Portland's own Clyde Drexler. That team went on to dazzle the basketball world and win the Olympic Gold in Barcelona.

Chairman

Paul Allen

Investor and philanthropist Paul G. Allen begins his 18th year as chairman of the Portland Trail Blazers. In 1988, Allen purchased Portland's National Basketball Association franchise from former owner Larry Weinberg.

Just one season after Allen acquired the team, the Trail Blazers made it all the way to the NBA Finals and were back in the championship round two years later. In the 17 years since Allen acquired the team, the Trail Blazers have posted a 810-552 record (a 59.5 winning percentage) and have been in the playoffs 15 times. In that span, only four teams-the Spurs, Lakers, Jazz and Suns-have posted better win-loss records.

Allen creates and advances world-class projects and high-impact initiatives that change and improve the way people live, learn and experience the world through arts, education, entertainment, sports, business and technology. He co-founded Microsoft with Bill Gates in 1976, remained the company's chief technologist until he left Microsoft in 1983, and is the founder and chairman of Vulcan Inc., and chairman of Charter Communications. In addition, Allen's multibillion dollar investment portfolio includes large stakes in DreamWorks SKG, Oxygen Media, real estate holdings and more than 40 other technology, media and content companies. In 2004 Allen funded SpaceShipOne, the first privately-funded effort to successfully put a civilian in suborbital space and winner of the Ansari X-Prize competition. Allen also owns the National Football League's Seattle Seahawks franchise.

Named one of the top 10 philanthropists in America, Allen gives back to the community through the Paul G. Allen Family Foundation, whose mission is to transform lives and strengthen communities by fostering innovation, creating knowledge and promoting social progress.

Allen is also founder of Experience Music Project, Seattle's critically-acclaimed interactive music museum, the Science Fiction Museum and Hall of Fame, and Vulcan Productions, the independent film production company behind Todd Haynes' Far From Heaven, the 2001 "Evolution" series on PBS, and this year's "The Blues," executive produced by Martin Scorsese in conjunction with Allen and Jody Patton.

Steve Patterson

President

Steve Patterson is the President & Alternate Governor of the Portland Trail Blazers NBA franchise. He came to Portland in 2003 to oversee all aspects of the organization's basketball and business operations.

Patterson was formerly the senior vice president and chief development officer of the Houston Texans NFL franchise. He joined Houston NFL Holdings in September 1997 to lead Bob McNair's successful effort to acquire a National Football League franchise and Super Bowl XXXVIII for Houston, Texas. Patterson was responsible for the establishment of the team's business, legal, media and political operations, as well as the design, finance and construction of Reliant Stadium. The Houston Texans are professional sports' first investment grade rated franchise.

Prior to joining the Texans, Patterson spent over three years as president, general manager and governor of the Houston Aeros International Hockey League team. Under Patterson's leadership the Aeros doubled the previous league record for season tickets sold and ticket revenue while setting additional marks for ticket and merchandise sales. In addition to guiding the franchise, Patterson took an active role in league issues, serving on the league's executive and legal committees as well as serving as the secretary of the IHL Board of Governors.

In addition to his roles with the Aeros, Patterson also served as the president of and partner in Arena Operating Company, which managed and operated Compaq Center, Houston's home of the Rockets, Aeros and Comets among others. He coordinated the effort, which resulted in the six-year, $7.5 million naming rights and sponsorship deal with Compaq Computer Corporation, and a $5 million renovation of the arena.

Patterson joined the Aeros following a nine-year stint with the NBA's Houston Rockets during which he earned a reputation as one of the most respected administrators in the league. The chief architect of the 1993-1994 Rockets squad that captured the first World Championship in franchise history, Patterson was the club's General Manager and Alternate Governor from 1989-1993.

During that span, the Rockets won the 1992-93 Midwest Division Championship, recorded three 50-win seasons, and never had a losing record. He was regarded throughout the league as one of its top executives and was twice runner-up in the balloting for The Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year. Under Patterson's direction, the Rockets were pioneers in foreign language broadcasting, creating and producing the NBA's first season-long radio game broadcasts in Spanish and first weekly Spanish television show. He also led the club's successful bid to host the 1989 NBA All-Star Game, which still holds the all-time attendance record of 44,735. In 1992, he negotiated, produced and promoted the NBA's first games in Mexico, drawing sellout crowds of over 19,500 fans to the Sports Palace in Mexico City.

Born and raised in Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, Patterson attended the University of Texas, graduating with honors and earning a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1980. He graduated from UT's Law School in 1984. He and his wife, Yasmin, are the parents of two sons, Austin (14) and Dylan (12) and a daughter, Leila (8).

John Nash

General Manager

The sixth general manager in the Trail Blazers 35-year history, John Nash is in his third season with the club. In his role with the Trail Blazers, Nash oversees day-to-day basketball operations and is responsible for all player personnel decisions.

Before coming to Portland, Nash served as a color analyst for Comcast Sports for two years. Prior to his going to work at Comcast, Nash spent 22 years in the National Basketball Association in a variety of roles, including 15 as a general manager, five as an assistant GM and two as a group sales director.

During his two-plus decades in the front office, Nash has earned a league-wide reputation as a knowledgeable and trusted talent evaluator when acquiring players. Nash was general manager for the Nets from 1996-2001. During that time he made four major multi-player trades and added Kenyon Martin to help bolster the Nets roster. Prior to his front office role with the Nets, Nash spent six seasons with the Washington Bullets/Wizards.

During his career Nash has showed why he is well regarded as a talent evaluator in the league by plucking Juwan Howard, Rasheed Wallace, Calbert Cheaney and Tom Gugliotta from the NBA draft and trading for Chris Webber, Theo Ratliff, Shareef Abdur-Rahim, Darius Miles and Nick Van Exel.

Nash got his start in the NBA as a general manager with the Philadelphia 76ers. One highlight during nine-year tenure was the Sixers' 1983 NBA championship. Another bright spot for Nash in Philadelphia was the draft day acquisition of Hersey Hawkins in 1988.

In Portland, he has made good on a commitment to evaluate character as well as talent in assembling a group of young players considered to be among the top prospects in the league. This past offseason, Nash oversaw the drafting of Martell Webster and Jarrett Jack and the free agent signing of Juan Dixon and Steve Blake, the starting backcourt duo for Maryland's 2002 NCAA championship team. In 2004, he spearheaded a draft that brought highly regarded Sebastian Telfair and two top European prospects, Viktor Khryapa and Sergei Monia, to Portland.

Kevin Pritchard

Director of Player Personnel

Kevin Pritchard returns to the Trail Blazers duties he started a year ago---director of player personnel---after stepping in as interim head coach for the final 27 games into the 2004-05 season. He took over the coaching duties on March 4, as the franchise opted to focus on developing its young players, particularly Sebastian Telfair, Travis Outlaw and Victor Khryapa, by giving them more game experience. The Blazers were 22-33 at the time. After Nate McMillan was named head coach in early July, Pritchard returned to his duties of overseeing player personnel matters and directing the Trail Blazers' domestic, collegiate and international scouting efforts. The 38-year-old Pritchard spent most of the two years prior to joining the Blazers as a scout for the San Antonio Spurs. Before that, he was with the Kansas City Knights of the ABA where he served as the team's general manager, head coach and director of player personnel. Pritchard became one the University of Kansas's all-time top players.. He averaged 12.2 points over four seasons while starting 129 of 139 career games. Pritchard was an All-Big 8 selection as a senior and three times was named to the All-Big 8 Academic Team. He ranks among the Jayhawks all-time top 10 in scoring, assists, steals and three-pointers. He was a second round selection (34th pick overall) by Golden State in the 1990 NBA Draft. In addition to the Warriors, he also played for Boston, Philadelphia, Miami and Washington in the NBA. Pritchard also played in Spain, Italy and Germany as well as in the Continental Basketball Association.

Head Coach

Nate McMillan

Nate McMillan, who spent nearly two decades as a player and coach in Seattle, was introduced to Portland on July 7 as the Trail Blazer's 12th head coach. The introduction took place in Washington Park's amphitheater amidst the floral beauty of the International Rose Test Gardens overlooking the city. Chairman Paul Allen, team President Steve Patterson and General Manager John Nash were all on hand along with festive crowd of fans bearing placards reading "Welcome to Portland Nate!"

Nate steps into the Trail Blazers top coaching position after capping a five-year Seattle tenure by leading the SuperSonics to the Northwest Division title and the league's sixth best record at 52-30. Seattle made it to the Western Conference semifinals where they took eventual champion San Antonio to six games before being eliminated.

Affectionately known as "Mr. Sonic" in the Puget Sound area, Nate spent his entire 12-year NBA playing career in a Seattle uniform. After stepping down as a player, McMillan served for two years as an assistant on Coach Paul Westphal's staff. Fifteen games into the 2000-01 season, he was named interim head coach replacing Westphal. The 12th head coach in Supersonics' history, McMillan was at the time the youngest head man in the NBA at 36 years old. He made his coaching debut with a 105-93 victory over the Trail Blazers in the Rose Garden on Nov. 28, 2000. The Sonics went 38-29 the rest if the season. The interim status was removed from McMillan's contract on January 5, 2001. His team swept the Lakers in a four-game series for the first time in Sonics history and during a stretch in March won 10 of 11 games.

'You respect the game, you respect the organization you work for, you respect the league, and you respect the fans.'

From August, 2005 Rip City Magazine interview with Coach McMillan

The 2001-02 club posted a 45-37 regular season record and earned the seventh seed in the Western Conference Playoffs. The Sonics went on to force San Antonio to the First Round series-deciding fifth game before losing, the only team in post season to do so that year.

Selected by the SuperSonics out of North Carolina State with the 30th pick in the 1986 NBA Draft, he went on to become one of the Seattle's most popular players. When Nate retired in 1998, he was the club's all-time leader in assists and steals. He still ranks second in both categories and is among the top 10 in eight other columns.

Rated as one of the league's top defensive players, he was named to the All-NBA Defensive Second Team in 1994 and 1995. He led the league in steals in 1994-95, averaging a career-high 2.96 per game. He was no slouch at running the offense either. He posted a career average of 6.1 assists in 796 regular season games. On Feb. 26, 1987 vs. the Clippers, he dished out 25 assists, a one-game rookie record he still shares with Ernie DiGregorio.

Seattle retired his No. 10 jersey in ceremonies on March 24, 1999, and in 2001 he was inducted to the National Junior College Basketball Hall of Fame. Nate led Chowan College of Murfreesboro, N.C., to the 1984 NJCAA National Tournament and was named NJCAA All-American. He spent his next two years at North Carolina State.

He was born Aug. 3, 1964, in Raleigh, N.C. Nate and his wife, Michelle, have two children, Jamelle and Brittany.

Coaching Staff

Dean Demopoulos

Lead Assistant Coach

After four years as an assistant in Seattle, Dean Demopoulos moves down Interstate 5 to reunite with his former boss Nate McMillan as lead assistant coach. Dean came to the SuperSonics in 2001 after 18 seasons of college coaching, 17 of those alongside Hall of Famer John Chaney at Temple University. Before Seattle, he served as head coach for one year at University of Missouri-Kansas City. That year, UMKC was ranked in the top 10 nationally in several statistical categories, including fewest turnovers (9.5 per game) and scoring defense (60.5 points per game). Demopoulos was an assistant under Chaney from 1983-84 through 1998-99. During that span, the Owls became a national basketball powerhouse, amassing a 393-151 (72.2%) record and making it to the NCAA Tournament 16 times and to the Elite Eight on four occasions. The run included 11 consecutive post-season appearances from 1990 to 2000. Temple won seven Atlantic 10 Conference titles and five conference tournament crowns and in 1987-88 finished 32-2, earning the No. 1 ranking in the final Associated Press, UPI and USA Today/CNN polls. Fourteen Temple players went on to the NBA during Dean's tenure at the Philadelphia school. Born March 29, 1954, in Philadelphia, Demopoulos was graduated from West Chester State in 1977 with a degree in comprehensive social sciences. He coached at Kennett, Pa., High School one year before joining Don Chaney's staff. Dean and his wife, Pam, have a daughter, Allie, and a son, James.

Maurice Lucas

Assistant Coach

"Luuuuuuuke!" The fan chant so familiar in Memorial Coliseum during the Trail Blazers' 1977 glory days comes roaring back anew in the Rose Garden. Twenty-nine seasons after that NBA championship season, Maurice Lucas returns to the Trail Blazers as an assistant coach. Luke, who took 17 years off from full involvement in basketball to help raise his family, reunites with the new Blazers' skipper. Maurice was a seasoned veteran with the Seattle SuperSonics in 1986-87 the year McMillan entered the league as a rookie guard. A three-time all-star in the American Basketball Association, Luke came to the Trail Blazers as the second pick in the 1976 ABA dispersal draft. Experts say the acquisition was the final piece needed in the construction of the team that went all the way to the championship in the franchise's first post-season appearance. Known as "The Enforcer," Lucas teamed with center Bill Walton for one of the league's most feared combinations around the basket. He led Portland in scoring that title year, averaging 20.2 points a contest and was second only to Walton in rebounding with 11.4 boards per game. All-NBA second team in 1977-78 and twice All-NBA Defense—first team in 1977-78 and second in 1978-79—he was a four-time All-Star game participant, three of those while wearing Trail Blazers colors. Traded to New Jersey in the middle of the 1979-80 season, he also played for New York, Phoenix, the Lakers and Seattle before finishing his 14-year professional career back in Portland in 1987-88. He averaged 15.6 points and 8.7 rebounds in 330 games as a Blazer and 14.4 points and 8.8 rebounds during an 855 game NBA career. Lucas' number 20 was officially retired by the Blazers in 1988. He played for Al McGuire at Marquette University and led the Golden Eagles to the 1974 NCAA Championship Finals. He scored 21 points and had 13 rebounds as Marquette lost to North Carolina State in the title game. Lucas serves as member of the board of the NBA Retired Players Association and has been involved in a number successful business ventures in the Portland area. He lives in Portland with his wife, Pamela, and has two sons, Maurice II and David and a daughter, Kristin.

Bob Burke

Assistant Coach

Nate McMillan reached back to his basketball roots when he added Bob Burke as an assistant coach on the Trail Blazers staff this fall. McMillan played for Burke for two years at Chowan College in Murfreesboro, N.C., and was a junior college All-American there in 1984. Burke, who most recently served an assistant coach at the University of Hawaii for three years, spent 22 seasons at Chowan. He turned the former junior college into a NCAA Division III powerhouse, posting an overall record of 454-258. When he left Chowan, Burke was the third winningest active college coach in North Carolina behind Mike Krzyzewski of Duke and Jerry Steele of High Point College. Before Chowan achieved Division III status in 1993, Burke had guided the Braves to three National Junior College national tournaments, twice advancing to the round of 16 and reaching the Final Four in 1984. From 1980 to 1992, Chowan posted 12 consecutive 20-win seasons. Burke has the distinction of being one of a very few who have coached at every collegiate level from junior college through the NAIA and NCAA Divisions' II and III to NCAA Division I. After graduation from Campbell University in Buis Creek, N.C., Burke started his coaching career in 1971 at Greensboro College in North Carolina, becoming the nation's youngest head coach at the age of 25. Subsequently, he served as an assistant at his alma mater and at Guilford College. Burke holds a master's degree in education from North Carolina A&T. He and his wife, Jane, have two children, Rob and Ashlyn. Rob is head basketball coach at Spartanburg Methodist Junior College in South Carolina.

Monty Williams

Assistant Coach

Three years ago, Monty Williams was in the guard rotation with the Philadelphia 76ers; last year he earned a ring as a coaching intern with the world champion San Antonio Spurs and this past summer coached the Spurs' summer league entry in the Rocky Mountain Revue. This fall, he starts as a full time assistant to Nate McMillan in Portland. Williams, who played his collegiate ball at Notre Dame, was a nine-year veteran of the NBA before chronic knee problems forced him into retirement in 2003. Selected by the New York in the first round (24th pick overall) in the 1994 NBA Draft, Williams played for the Knicks, San Antonio, Denver, Orlando and Philadelphia. His best season was with the Spurs in 1996-97 when he averaged 9.0 points, 3.2 rebounds and 1.4 assists in 65 games and shot 50.9% from the field. Williams was a 6.3 ppg scorer in 456 career NBA games. He was an honorable mention All-American at Notre Dame after averaging 22.4 points and 8.4 rebounds during his senior season. Williams was out of basketball for two years during college (from 1990 to 1992) after being diagnosed with hypertropic cardiomyopathy, a rare condition of a thickened muscle between the chambers of the heart. He earned a degree from Notre Dame's College of Arts and Letters, majoring in communications and theatre and was a 4.0 student at Potomac High School in Oxon Hill, Md. Active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, he was involved with fellow NBA guard Charlie Ward in distributing shoes and athletic equipment to impoverished communities in South Africa. He and his wife, Ingrid, are the parents of two children.

Our Community

The Portland Trail Blazers community investment efforts are directed primarily on providing resources to children and their families to help create a healthy environment for them to learn, be strong, active and involved.

The team's community relations' focus is simply on youth in the areas of:

Literacy & Education, Service, and Sports & Fitness.

Trail Blazers Key Community Statistic

- With a corporate culture that promotes volunteerism, the Blazers Community Builders employee volunteer program provides time-off for staff volunteers to support hundreds of local non-profits each year impacting the lives of more than 20,000 individuals and families each year.

- The teams' partnership with Boys & Girls Clubs of Portland has resulted in contributions of more than $1 million over the past 10 years.

literacy & education

The Trail Blazers, its staff, alumni and corporate and community partners champion several literacy and education focused programs annually. Across the NBA, teams dedicate thousands of hours as ambassadors for literacy, and throughout Oregon the Trail Blazers support education at all levels in several ways. Enhancing the learning environment and providing resources for students and teachers to be successful are priorities for the team and its staff.

Trail Blazers Read to Achieve

The Trail Blazers strive to inspire children to ACHIEVE goals and dreams through the NBA's Read to Achieve program. The team believes if you put books in the hands of children and their families, provide fun, interactive opportunities to read together, we can help inspire students to achieve the reading skills that every child needs to succeed. Through hosting reading events, distributing thousands of books to students, creating special reading rooms with non-profit partners, and allowing employees time-off to be reading mentors, the Trail Blazers management, staff and team are dedicated to providing the resources necessary to help children Read to Achieve.

SMART

The Trail Blazers have enjoyed a longstanding partnership with the SMART (Start Making a Reader Today) program designed to team-up an adult and a child to read together weekly throughout the school year. With an initial grant of $50,000 given in 1997 as an inaugural member of the 10,000 by 2000 campaign, the organization has gone on to contribute nearly $300,000 in cash and tremendous in-kind support to SMART through events, public service support and assisting in volunteer recruitment. In addition to Trail Blazers support, team owner, Paul Allen provided the SMART program with a challenge grant of $1 million pledged.

Literacy Stats

- During the 2004 NBA Read to Achieve Tip-off, the Trail Blazers visited five school districts throughout the Portland-metropolitan area; Beaverton, Tualatin, Prescott, and Evergreen and Vancouver in Washington. Each student took home a book and all five districts received $1,000 for their individual literacy agendas.

- To date the Trail Blazers have contributed nearly $300,000 to SMART, Start Making a Reader Today, an organization that matches adult volunteers and children one-on-one in mentorship relationships where they read together once a week, every week, throughout the school year.

- Trail Blazers employees take "Reading Time Outs" each week to be SMART mentors.

- The Trail Blazers host an annual book club with the Portland Bridge Builders, an organization that mentors middle and high school aged African-American males in leadership and excellence. Each year the book chosen for reading and discussion with Trail Blazers team members, focus on critical life choices, living lives of service, excellence and achievement.

- Trail Blazers corporate sponsor, Domino's Pizza, has featured a Trail Blazers Meal Deal during every televised game. When fans purchase a large pizza and a 2-liter bottle of Coke at a discounted price, a portion of the proceeds benefit SMART (Start Making a Reader Today).

Other Trail Blazers Community Support

Each year the team provides a myriad of resources to non-profit organizations in Oregon and SW Washington.
Team memorabilia, special game night opportunities, and interaction with team members raise nearly $100,000 annually for charities. The Trail Blazers host thousands of young people and underserved families and individuals to numerous games throughout the season.

The dedication of the NBA, its teams and players to the improvement of communities around the world has a long history and tremendous reach.

The league's implementation and execution of its Read to Achieve program impacts and inspires children and their families to develop a life-long love of reading. The NBA family has placed reading and children's education at the forefront of its community work by donating millions of dollars, extensive resources and countless volunteer hours to the promotion and sponsorship of literacy initiatives. In addition, through the internationally acclaimed Basketball without Borders program, the NBA reaches people all over the world.

Through the Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA program, the NBA positively impacts millions of kids and their parents on a year-round basis by stressing fundamental basketball skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation. The Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA provides a support structure that encourages participation and makes youth basketball fun and rewarding for players, coaches, officials and parents.

As the world's greatest athletes, NBA players are dedicated to the community and committed to giving back in extraordinary ways. Through their foundations, camp efforts and charitable work, they make a difference for thousands of non-profit and youth-serving organizations. Each month, the NBA honors one of its players who has achieved outstanding accomplishments in the community, with the Community Assist Award and the David Robinson plaque, which represents the standard and legacy set by the NBA Legend. Additionally, the NBA and WNBA each present an annual Sportsmanship Award to a player who best represents the ideals of sportsmanship.

In addition to youth sports and education, the NBA also supports numerous causes and organizations that positively impact communities, including but not limited to: The Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund; UNICEF; The National Wheelchair Basketball Association; The National Civil Rights Museum; Gallaudet University; The National Underground Railroad Freedom Center; and the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS.

Now in their 18th year, the BlazerDancers are regarded as one of the top dance teams in the National Basketball Association. They perform exciting routines at every Trail Blazers home game. Throughout the year they make countless charitable and promotional appearances throughout the greater Portland metropolitan area. The team also conducts various camps and clinics for aspiring young dancers. Coach DeeDee Anderson, a BlazerDancer original, is in her fifteenth season leading the performing group.

Trail Blazing

A STELLAR ROOKIE YEAR -- Geoff Petrie is one of only eight players in the history of the NBA to score 2,000 or more points as a rookie. He led the Blazers in their first season by scoring 2,031 points, earning co-Rookie of the Year honors for his efforts. Geoff's first year performance placed him in select company. The list of other players to exceed that plateau as rookies includes five Hall of Famers---Wilt Chamberlain, Oscar Robertson, Walt Bellamy, Rick Barry, Elvin Hayes and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar plus Michael Jordan. Robertson and Jordan are the only other guards to accomplish the feat and Jordan is the only rookie to do so since Petrie topped the 2,000 point mark 34 seasons ago.

Trail Blazing

FLIRTING WITH A QUAD -- Two Trail Blazers, Larry Steele and Clyde Drexler, came oh-so-close to joining a select group of four NBA players who have recorded quadruple doubles in a game. Steele was an assist shy of when he had 12 points, 11 rebounds, 10 steals and 9 assists in a win over the Lakers on Nov. 16, 1974. Drexler 12 years later missed doing it by one rebound when he recorded 26 points, 11 assists, 10 steals and 9 rebounds to lead the Blazers to a victory over Milwaukee on Oct. 10, 1986. David Robinson had the NBA's last quadruple double on Feb. 17, 1994. Others who have scored quadruple doubles over the years are Nate Thurmond, Alvin Robertson and Hakeem Olajuwon.

Trail Blazers Trade History

NOTES TO TRADE HISTORY

1. If a third team is not mentioned in the transaction then assume any draft pick is the choice of the team Portland is trading with or is Portland's choice.
2. If a draft choice acquired in a transaction is subsequently traded by Portland in that original deal, the choice is listed as 'choice traded.' Everywhere else when referring to a draft choice, the player eventually selected by Portland or by the team ultimately receiving the draft choice is shown in parentheses.
3. In trades only what actually happened is given. If a team has several options in a deal only the one it ultimately uses is given.
4. Names in boldface indicate players who actually played for the Blazers.

BLAZERS

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers inaugural season was far more exciting for fans than the club's 29-52 finish indicates . . . The record was the best of the three 1970 NBA expansion teams (Buffalo was 22-60 and Cleveland 15-67) and was the second-best ever by a first-year franchise. Plenty of action was provided at both ends of the floor: Coach Rolland Todd's club had the league's fourth most productive offense, averaging 115.5 points a game behind only the world champion Milwaukee Bucks, Boston and Cincinnati, but the Blazers were dead last in points allowed, giving up 120.0 per contest. Combined, Portland and its opponents averaged 93 field goals, 206 field goal attempts and nearly 111 rebounds a game. The Blazers came on strong at the end of the season, winning six of their final seven and the last five in a row to match their longest victory streak. Among the memorable homecourt efforts was the 114-96 victory over the defending champion New York Knicks before the biggest crowd of the first season---12,086 on Jan. 9, a 123-111 win over eventual titlist Milwaukee on Feb. 2, and 137-125 over Northwest rival Seattle on Feb. 12.

HONORS --- Geoff Petrie, Portland's 1st pick in the 1970 Draft, shared NBA Rookie of the Year honors with Boston's Dave Cowens after scoring 2,031 points and averaging 24.8 a game, seventh highest in the league . . . He became only the seventh rookie in history to top the 2,000-point mark . . .A unanimous 1st team pick on the NBA All-Rookie Team, Petrie was the first Blazer to be selected for the NBA All-Star Game.

CHANGES --- Rolland Todd named first head coach April 2; Leo Marty became the first trainer. . . EXPANSION DRAFT: Rick Adelman, Jerry Chambers, LeRoy Ellis, Fred Hetzel, Joe Kennedy, Ed Manning, Stan McKenzie, Dorie Murrey, Pat Riley, Dale Schlueter, Larry Siegfried . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: Geoff Petrie, Princeton (1st round), Ron Knight , L.A. State (5th) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Larry Siegfried to San Diego for Jim Barnett, Jerry Chambers to Atlanta for Gary Gregor, 2nd round draft pick to Chicago for Shaler Halimon; sold Pat Riley to LA Lakers.

Overall record: 29-52 (15th in league, 9th in conference, 5th in division)
Home record: 18-21(13th in league) including "homecourt" win at McArthur Court in Eugene
Road record: 9-28 (15th in league); Neutral court record: 2-3

IN REVIEW --- Director of Player Personnel Stu Inman took over the reins of the club as interim coach when second-year head man Rolland Todd was dismissed on February 3 . . . At that juncture, the Trail Blazers were 12-44 and had lost nine in a row . . . The Blazers finished with an 18-64 mark (last in the league) after going 29-52 in their inaugural campaign . . . Portland was just 4-37 away from home and lost its last 18 road outings . . . The Trail Blazers ranked 15th among the league's 17 teams in offensive production, averaging 106.8 ppg, and were last in defensive prowess, giving up 116.5 ppg . . . Highlights of the season came in mid-December when Portland pulled out overtime wins on the road three nights apart, coming from behind to defeat the Pistons in Detroit, 131-130, and then winning in Buffalo 101-100 . . . The Blazers salved some of the wounds from an otherwise disappointing year when they routed the N.Y Knicks, 133-88, in their final home outing March 18.

HONORS --- Sidney Wicks, Portland's first choice (No. 2 overall) in the 1971 NBA Draft, became the second Blazer in a row to earn Rookie of the Year honors . . . The All-American forward out of UCLA also became the eighth rookie in league history to top 2,000 points (2,009), after teammate Geoff Petrie did it the year before . . . He averaged 24.5 ppg, 12th highest among the league leaders . . . Stan McKenzie ranked ninth in free throw percentage (.831) . . . Wicks was a unanimous pick on the 1971-72 All-Rookie team and the second Blazer to participate in the NBA All-Star Game.

CHANGES --- Stu Inman is named interim coach on February 3, replacing Rolland Todd . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: Sidney Wicks, UCLA (1st round), Charles Yelverton, Fordham (2nd), Larry Steele, Kentucky (3rd), Bill Smith, Syracuse (3rd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Jim Barnett to San Francisco for three draft picks---one future (Charles Yelverton, Bill Smith, Dave Twardzik), LeRoy Ellis to LA Lakers for a future draft pick (Ollie Johnson).

Home record: 13-27 (16th in league); Road record: 4-37 (17th in league); Neutral court record: 0-1

IN REVIEW --- Under new head coach Jack McCloskey, the Blazers struggled to a 21-61 finish and won just 13 times at home . . . But Portland, with two of the league's top-10 scorers (Geoff Petrie, 24.9 ppg, and Sidney Wicks, 23.8 ppg) providing the punch, played an upbeat, fastbreak brand of basketball that helped boost home attendance by more than 1,000 a game over the previous season. Portland's rivalry with its neighbor to the north, Seattle, helped fuel fan interest. The two teams split their six-game series, with all six contests down-to-the-wire affairs. A pair of home wins during a three-night span helped get the Blazers faithful buzzing. On March 16, Portland posted a season-high point total in a 141-128 rout of Houston fired by Petrie's second 51-point game of the season. Two nights later, the Blazers rallied to clip the eventual world champion New York Knicks, 99-96, with Petrie getting 34 points.

HONORS --- Lloyd Neal, Portland's fifth selection (3rd round, 31st pick overall) in the 1972 Draft, was named to the NBA All-Rookie team . . . Neal, at 6-7 and 225, started 81 games at center and led the team in rebounding (11.8 rpg), and finished third in scoring (13.4 ppg) . . . Geoff Petrie, who topped the team in scoring (24.9 ppg), ranked seventh in the NBA and Sidney Wicks (23.8 ppg) ninth . . . Petrie registered a team record 51 points twice, both times against the Houston Rockets . . . Wicks made his second straight NBA All Star Game appearance, scoring 13 points.

CHANGES --- Jack McCloskey is named head coach on April 3 and Neil Johnston becomes Portland's first assistant coach . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: LaRue Martin, Loyola-Chicago (1st round), Bob Davis, Weber State (2nd), Dave Twardzik, Old Dominion (2nd), Ollie Johnson, Temple (2nd), Lloyd Neal, Tennessee State (3rd). . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Acquired Terry Dischinger from Detroit in a three-way exchange involving Philadelphia; Traded Dale Schlueter to Philadelphia for Dave Wohl, Stan McKenzie to Houston for Greg Smith.

Overall record: 21-61 (tie, 15th in league, 9th in conference, 5th in division)
Home record: 13-28 (16th in league), Road record: 8-33 (16th in league)

1973-74

IN REVIEW --- The Blazers, in their fourth NBA season, improved by six games in the win column over the previous campaign but were still near the bottom of the league with a 27-55 record. Portland's one-two scoringpunch of Geoff Petrie and Sidney Wicks added some luster to the season along with third-year guard-forward Larry Steele, who became the club's first NBA statistical leader. Petrie finished eighth in the NBA scoring race with a 24.3 ppg average and Wicks 11th (22.5). The quick-handed Steele averaged 2.68 steals a game to lead the league in that category. Jack McCloskey's club put together two good runs, opening the season by winning seven of their first 11 outings, then then took eight of 12 beginning in mid-December. But the road bugaboo continued to plague the Blazers. They won only five times all year away from home and in one stretch lost a club record 21 straight on the road. Biggest success came on opening night in Memorial Coliseum when the Blazers crunched the eventual Central Division champion Capital (Washington) Bullets, 132-87. On November 3, a crowd of 12,086 turned out to watch Portland defeat the defending NBA champion New York Knicks, 107-104. It was the first plus-12,000 crowd in franchise history.

HONORS --- Sidney Wicks and Geoff Petrie were selected to represent Portland in the NBA All Star Game . . . Wicks, making his third straight All Star appearance, scored 16 points, and Petrie, in his second All Star Game, eight points . . . Larry Steele was the NBA leader in steals with 217 (a 2.68 per game average) . . . With Steele leading the way, Portland topped the league in swipes with 797.

CHANGES --- KEY ROSTER MOVES: Acquired John Johnson, Rick Roberson and a 1973 1st round draft pick (Barry Parkhill, Virginia) from Cleveland in exchange for 973 1st round and 3rd round draft picks; Traded Rick Adelman to Chicago for cash and a 1974 2nd round draft choice (Phil Lumpkin).

Overall record: 27-55 (16th in league, 9th in conference, 5th in division)
Home record: 22-19 (tie, 11th in league), Road record: 5-36 (16th in league)

IN REVIEW --- Future Hall of Famer Lenny Wilkens took over the coaching reigns and guided the Trail Blazers to a 38 -44 finish, the best in the young franchise's first five seasons and just three victories shy of earning theclub's first playoff appearance. The Blazers, 13 games under .500 on February 23 (24-37), came on strong to win 14 of their last 21 and just miss a post-season berth. They launched the late run by winning six straight, at the time the longest victory streak in club history. Portland opened the year with a thrilling 131-129 four-overtime victory over Cleveland at home and closed it out with three straight wins, including 124-106 and 126-97 romps over the Lakers. Wilkens, who was player-coach and appeared in 65 games, saw his final NBA action wearing a Blazers uniform on April 6, 1975, when he scored 15 points and dishing out six assists in a 29-point win over the Lakers. In all, he averaged 16.5 ppg in 1,077 games over 15 seasons for four different teams. The 1974-75 season also marked the arrival on the Portland scene of another future Hall of Famer, Bill Walton. The three-time College Player of the Year from UCLA was taken as the No. 1 choice in the 1974 NBA Draft by the Blazers. However, injuries kept the big redhead on the bench for all but 35 games of his rookie season. In those outings, he averaged 12.8 ppg and 12.6 rpg. Sidney Wicks was Portland's leader with 21.7 ppg and 10.7 rpg while starting all 82 games. In a 117-116 OT win over the Lakerson February 26, he pulled down a club-record 27 rebounds.

IN REVIEW --- After coming close to securing a playoff berth the previous season, the Trail Blazers won one less game than 1974-75 (37-45) and finished fifth in the Pacific Division, six games out of contention for post-season action. Injuries to key players, particularly Bill Walton and Lloyd Neal, helped frustrate Coach Lenny Wilkens efforts to build on the advances made during 1974-75. Walton sat out 31 games with ankle problems and Portland was 11-20 in those games. With Walton back in action, the Blazers surged in mid-season, winning seven in a row and 10 of 12, including three out of five on a tough Eastern road swing. That pulled them within four games of .500---23-27---on February 6, but injuries again forced Wilkens to scramble for starters and the team lost seven of its next eight. During the stretch when the Blazers were 12-2, Walton averaged 21.1 points and 17.8 rebounds, including a 36-point, 22-rebound game in a victory at Atlanta and 27 points and 22 rebounds in a 23-point win over the Lakers nine nights later. Sidney Wicks led the Blazers in scoring for the season, averaging 19.1 ppg with Geoff Petrie (18.9 ppg) and Walton (18.1 ppg) right behind. Walton topped rebounders with a 13.0 average.

HONORS --- Larry Steele finished third in the NBA in steals (2.41 per game), Lloyd Neal was 10th in blocked shots (1.57 per game) and Sidney Wicks 12th in scoring (19.1 ppg).

CHANGES --- KEY DRAFT PICKS: Lionel Hollins, Arizona State (1st round), Bob Gross, Long Beach State (2nd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Acquired Steve Jones from Golden State in exchange for a 1976 6th round pick; Traded John Johnson to Houston for Steve Hawes

Overall record: 37-45 (14th in league, 6th in conference, 5th in division)
Home record: 26-15 (11th in league), Road record: 11-30 (14th in league);

IN REVIEW --- Blazermania is born. The Trail Blazers crowned a storybook season by besting favored Philadelphia to win the NBA Championship, a first-ever world title for Portland. The capper came June 5 in MemorialColiseum when Coach Jack Ramsay's club pulled out a 109-107 thriller in the sixth and deciding game. The Blazers became only the second team in NBA history to go all the way in their first trip to the playoffs. Portland, with the third best regular season record in the west, opened post-season play by getting past Chicago in a tough best-of-three series, then took Denver in six games in the conference semifinals. Next, the Blazers swept the LA Lakers, the team with the league's best regular season record, in four games. That set up the showdown with Julius Erving and the Sixers. Philadlephia won the first two matchups. But Portland took the next four to become only the second team in history to win a title after starting out 0-2.

HONORS --- Bill Walton was NBA Finals MVP . . . Among his contributions was a 20 points, 23 rebounds and 8 blocked shots in the title contest, the latter an NBA Finals record . . . Walton was named to the All-NBA 2nd team, and was a 1st team pick on the All-Defensive team . . . He led the league in rebounding (14.4 rpg) and blocked shots (3.25 bpg) . . . Bobby Gross was seventh in FG percentage (.529) and Walton right behind in eighth (.528) . . . Maurice Lucas was ninth in rebounding (11.4 rpg) and Lionel Hollins seventh in steals (2.18 spg).

CHANGES --- Jack Ramsay was named head coach on June 1, replacing Lenny Wilkens . . . 1977-78

IN REVIEW --- Through the first 60 games, the defending NBA champions were making prognosticators look good. Before the season started, they labeled the1977-78 Blazers the "team of destiny." Coach Jack Ramsay'sclub appeared to be just that, dominating the league for the first four months. It was 50-10 going into March; it was 30-1 at home, including a club-record 26 wins in a row; it had outscored its opponents by 9.9 points a game. Then disaster struck. Bill Walton was lost for the season after suffering a broken foot 13 minutes into Game 60 at Philadelphia. A night later, Lloyd Neal went to the sidelines for good with a knee injury. In the final 22 games, during which Portland won just eight times, four other regulars missed a total of 23 games because of various hurts. Even so, the Blazers finished with the league's best record, 58-24, but going into the playoffs were just a shadow of the powerhouse that rolled through February. Portland was ousted in the Western Conference semifinals in six games by Seattle. As a team, Portland led the league in defense, with a 101.5 ppg average, and had the best point differential (+6.2).

HONORS --- Bill Walton, who led the team in scoring (18.9 ppg), rebounding (13.2 rpg) and blocked shots (2.52 bpg), was selected the league's Most Valuable Player . . . Walton was a 1st team All-NBA choice and Maurice Lucas 2nd team . . . Walton, Lucas anc Lionel Hollins were all on the league's All-Defensive 1st team and Bobby Gross the 2nd team . . . Walton was fourth in the league in blocked shots and Gross seventh in FG percentage (.528) . . . Walton (15 points), Lucas (12 points) and Hollins (10 points) all took part in the 1978 NBA All-Star Game.

KEY DRAFT PICKS: Kim Anderson, Missouri, and T.R. Dunn, Alabama, (2nd round) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Acquired Tom Owens from Houston in exchange for Robin Jones and cash; Traded Wally Walker to Seattle for a 1st and a 2nd round draft choice; Reacquired Dale Schlueter from Phoenix for a 4th round draft pick.

Overall record: 58-24 (1st in league, 1st in conference, 1st in division)
Home record: 36-5 (2nd in league), Road record: 22-19 (1st in league)
Lost to Seattle in Western Conference Semifinals (4-2)

IN REVIEW --- Two of top front-court performers were onlookers for most of the season while two rookies stepped forward as the Blazers made it into post-season action for the third straight year. Bill Walton, 1977-78league MVP, missed the entire campaign with an ankle injury, and Lloyd Neal, Mr. Reliable in the paint for Portland for seven seasons, played just four games before going to the sidelines for good with ailing knees. He retired at the end of the season.Forward Mychal Thompson, first choice in the 1978 draft (originally Indiana's but acquired in an exchange that included Johnny Davis and Portland's own 1st round pick), had an outstanding rookie season, averaging 14.7 points and 8.3 rebounds, was a strong candidate for NBA Rookie of the Year honors. He had a spectacular NBA debut, getting a team-high 23 points and 10 rebounds in his first game ever then coming back two nights later to score a season-high 37 points and claim 14 rebounds in a win over Kansas City. Guard Ron Brewer, Portland's own 1st round selection, averaged 13.3 ppg, fifth best on the team, while drawing 48 starts. The Blazers, four games under .500 at the season's midway point, went 14-3 during March and early April to finish the season 45-37. Highlight of the run was a three-game road sweep of Cleveland, Washington and Milwaukee.

HONORS --- Mychal Thompson and Rod Brewer were selected on the NBA All-Rookie Team . . . Dave Twardzik ranked seventh in free throw percentage (.873), and Tom Owens was ninth in field goal percentage (.548) . . . Maurice Lucas played in his third straight NBA All-Star Game.

KEY DRAFT PICKS: Mychal Thompson, Minnesota, and Ron Brewer, Arkansas (both 1st round), Clemon Johnson, Florida A&M (2nd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Johnny Davis and a 1st round pick to Indiana for a 1978 1st round pick (used to select Mychal Thompson); Traded Corky Calhour to Indian for a 1980 2nd round pick; Signed veteran free agent Jim McMillian giving New York a 1979 2nd round pick as compensation.

Overall record: 45-37 (10th in league, 6th in conference, 4th in division)
Home record: 33-8 (2nd in league) , Road record: 12-29 (tie, 13th in league);
Lost to Phoenix in Western Conference First Round (2-1)

IN REVIEW --- New faces came on the scene, among them Calvin Natt, Kermit Washington, Kevin Kunnert, Jim Paxson and Billy Ray Bates. Gone were three players who had big roles in the 1977 championshiprun--Bill Walton, Maurice Lucas and Lionel Hollins. The Blazers opened strong, winning their first nine games, but then dropped into a mid-season slump during which they lost 10 in a row and 15 of 19. They finished the season 38-44, and below the .500 mark for the first time since the 1975-76 season. A pair of victories over San Diego in the final week of the season helped Portland hold off the Clippers for the sixth and final spot in the Western Conference Playoffs. The Blazers finished three wins ahead of the Clippers in the final standings. Calvin Natt, acquired on February 8, played a big role in Portland making it to the playoffs. He averaged a team-best 20.4 ppg in 25 games in a Blazers uniform. Portland's defense was the second best in the league, allowing just 103.3 ppg, but the offense ranked next to last, producing 102.5 ppg.

HONORS --- Calvin Natt was named to the NBA All-Rookie team . . . Kermit Washington was selected on the All-Defensive second team and represented the Blazers in the 1980 NBA All-Star Game . . . He finished eighth in the NBA in FG shooting (.553) and was ninth in rebounding (10.5 rpg).

Overall record: 38-44 (13th in league, 6th in conference, 4th in division)
Home record: 26-15 (tie, 12th in league) , Road record: 12-29 (tie, 12th in league)
Lost to Seattle in Western Conference First Round (2-1)

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers set a club record for December, going 13-2, part of a stretch when they won 14 of 15 games. And, they finished the season by winning 12 of their last 16 games and 16 of their last 22,including the capturing their final three on the road. Those runs helped boost the final record to 45-37, seven victories better than the previous season. Balanced scoring and a relatively injury-free season were contributing factors in the improvement. Seven Blazer regulars averaged in double-digit scoring, led by second-year guard Jim Paxson's 17.1 ppg and Mychal Thompson's 17.0 ppg. Rookie Kelvin Ransey took over the starting point guard role in November and ended the season with a club-record 555 assists, the league's seventh highest total for the year. For the fourth straight year since winning the title in 1977 Portland exited the playoffs after one round but only after a hard-fought best-of-three series with Kansas City. The Kings took the first one in overtime, 98-97. The Blazers came back to win Game 2, also in OT, 124-119, with Mychal Thompson scoring a Portland playoff record 40 points. KC clinched the series with a 104-95 victory. In that loss, the Blazers shot 54 percent from the floor and converted two more field goals than the Kings but were only five-of-eight from the line, playoff lows for the club.

HONORS --- Kelvin Ransey was named to the NBA All-Rookie team . . . Kermit Washington for the second straight year was selected on the NBA's All-Defensive second team . . . Ransey was seventh in the league in assists (6.9 apg); Washington sixth in FG percentage (.569); Billy Ray Bates 10th in FT percentage (.854); Mychal Thompson eighth in blocked shots (2.15 bpg).

KEY DRAFT PICKS: Ron Lester, Iowa (1st round), Michael Harper, North Park (3rd). . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded draft rights to Ron Lester to Chicago for the rights to Kelvin Ransey and an exchange of 1981 1st round draft picks; Traded T.R. Dunn and a 1983 1st round draft pick to Denver for a 1983 1st round draft pick (used to draft Clyde Drexler) and a 1984 2nd round pick; Traded Jim Brewer to the LA Lakers for a 1984 2nd round pick (used to draft Jerome Kersey); Traded Ron Brewer to San Antonio for Mike Gale and a 1st round draft pick in 1982.

Overall record: 45-37 (tie, 8th in league, 4th in conference, 3rd in division)
Home record: 30-11 (tie, 6th in league) , Road record: 15-26 (tie, 11th in league)
Lost to Kansas City in Western Conference First Round (2-1)

IN REVIEW --- Even though they finished the year at 42-40, two games above .500, the 1981-82 Trail Blazers became the first Portland team to miss the NBA Playoffs in six seasons. While only 12 of the 22 other teams in the league had better records, four of those were in the tough Pacific Division and seven were in the Western Conference. The Blazers were adversely affected when Kermit Washington, their rebounding leader the previous two seasons, was hobbled by an ankle injury suffered prior to the start of regular season play. Washington, an NBA All-Defensive team choice the previous two seasons and Portland's leading rebounder and field goal shooter in both campaigns, saw action in only 20 of the team's first 38 games and averaged just 5.0 points and 5.9 rebounds before the gimpy ankle forced his retirement from basketball on January 26. Despite the loss of Washington and injuries to other key front-line players for varied lengths of time, the Blazers were still in the hunt for a playoff spot going into the final week of action. After defeating Golden State, 116-106 in overtime to improve to 41-37, Portland dropped three of its last four games and Phoenix took the final spot in the six-team Western Conference playoffs.

HONORS --- Mychal Thompson was fourth in the league in rebounding (11.7 rpg), fifth highest one season average in club history; Calvin Natt ranked fifth in FG percentage (.576) which was a club record; Kelvin Ransey, who equaled his previous year's team-record 555 assists, was ninth in that category (7.1 apg).

CHANGES --- Stu Inman added the duties of general manager to those of director of player personnel; Jim Lynam was named assistant coach . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: Jeff Lamp, Virginia, and Darnell Valentine, Kansas (both 1st round), Petur Gudmundsson, Washington (3rd); Peter Verhoeven, Fresno State (4th) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Tom Owens to Indiana for a 1984 1st round draft pick (used to draft Sam Bowie); Traded Mike Gale to Golden State for two 2nd round draft picks; Kermit Washington retired on January 26.

Overall record: 42-40 (tie, 13th in league, 8th in conference, 5th in division)
Home record: 27-14 (10th in league) , Road record: 15-26 (tie, 14th in league)

IN REVIEW --- For the first time since winning the NBA championship in 1977, the Trail Blazers advanced beyond one round of action in post-season play. Finishing the regular season at 46-36, the most wins sincethe 1977-78 campaign, the Blazers took two straight from the fourth-seeded Seattle SuperSonics in the playoff's first round to advance to the Western Conference semifinals against the Los Angeles Lakers. The defending world champions prevailed in that series, four games to one. Portland, 31-10 in the friendly confines of Memorial Coliseum, sustained a 15-game homecourt win streak from mid-November through mid-January. It equaled the second longest home string in franchise history. One of the keys to the success of the 1982-83 season was a relatively injury-free run by the six core players in Coach Jack Ramsay's rotation---Jim Paxson, Calvin Natt, Mychal Thompson, Kenny Carr, Wayne Cooper and Fats Lever. Collectively, they missed only eight games because of hurts the entire season. Paxson (21.7 ppg) and Natt (20.4 ppg) were 17th and 23rd respectively among the league's scoring leaders. Lever, in his first season, led the Blazers in assists with a 5.3 apg average and was 10th in the NBA in steals.

HONORS --- Jim Paxson was selected to play in the 1983 NBA All-Star Game . . . Lafayette Lever was 10th in the NBA in steals (1.89 spg).

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers posted the second-best record in the west (48-34), a two-victory improvement over the previous season's mark and good enough to nail down the third seed in the Western Conference playoffs. Their impressive 33-8 homecourt record was the best in the NBA; they were 15-1 going into January and didn't lose their third game at home until February 12, being 24-3 at that juncture. On March 16, Portland and Chicago went four overtimes before the Bulls pulled out a 156-155 victory. The game, the highest scoring in franchise history, lasted a club-record 3 hours and 24 minutes. Jim Paxson scored a career-high 41 points in a losing cause. The long ordeal didn't seem to faze the Blazers. They returned to the court less than 24 hours later and outscored Golden State, 133-96, a victory than launched them on an eight-game winning streak, their longest of the year. Jack Ramsay became the second winningest coach in NBA history on March 23 after his team defeated Phoenix, 124-98. He finished the year with 703 career victories, second only to Red Auerbach of Boston. Portland converted a team-record .505 from the field for the season, the league's fourth best mark. The second place finish in the west went for naught in the playoffs. The Blazers lost out to sixth-seeded Phoenix in the first round, 3-2.

HONORS --- Guard Jim Paxson became the third Trail Blazer to be named an NBA all-star, being selected 2nd team All-NBA . . . Paxson also was selected to play in his second consecutive NBA All-Star Game, this time scoring 10 points on 5-of-9 shooting in 14 minutes . . . Calvin Natt was fifth in the league in FG percentage, hitting at .583, second-highest ever by a Trail Blazer.

KEY DRAFT PICKS: Clyde Drexler, Houston (1st round); Granville Waiters, Ohio State (2nd); Tom Piotrowski, LaSalle (3rd) . . . TRADES: Granville Waiters to Indiana for a 2nd round draft pick; Peter Gudmundsson to Detroit for a 3rd round draft choice; Linton Townes to Cleveland for a 2nd round pick; Hank McDowell to Indiana for a 3rd round pick.

Overall record: 48-34 (6th in league, 2nd in conference, 2nd in division)
Home record: 33-8 (1st in league) , Road record: 15-26 (8th in league)
Lost to Phoenix in Western Conference First Round (3-2)

IN REVIEW --- Biggest news of the 1984-85 season was the blockbuster trade that took place during the summer. To acquire Kiki Vandeweghe, the NBA's No. 3 scorer the previous season with a 29.4 ppg average, the Blazers sent to Denver Calvin Natt, Lafayette Lever and Wayne Cooper plus two draft choices. Despite the added firepower which boosted Portland to fourth in the league's scoring race with a 115.5 ppg average and give them a plus 3.4 ppg scoring advantage over their foes (fifth in the NBA), the Blazers finished the regular season 42-40, down six wins from the year before. Not being able to win consistently away from Memorial Coliseum haunted the Blazers. They were 12-29 on the road, their worst travel record since the 1979-80 campaign. Portland went into the playoffs for the eighth time in nine seasons with the west's No. 5 seed. And, for the second year in a row, the Blazers advanced to the conference semifinals, disposing of No. 4 Dallas in four games in the opening round. But their second round foe was the red-hot Los Angeles Lakers who won the series matchup in five games. The Lakers went on to capture the 1985 NBA title. Seven Blazers ended the season with double-digit scoring averages, led by Vandeweghe's 22.4 ppg. He was followed by Mychal Thompson (18.4), Jim Paxson (17.9) and Clyde Drexler (17.2).

HONORS --- Sam Bowie was named to the NBA All-Rookie team, the eighth Blazer in franchise history to be so honored . . . Bowie blocked 203 shots in 76 games, a 2.67 bpg average, the third highest in the NBA and the second-most ever by a Portland player . . . Kiki Vandeweghe ranked second in the league in free throw shooting accuracy, making .896 of his attempts (369 of 412) . . . Clyde Drexler was eighth in steals with a 2.63 per game average.

CHANGES --- Rick Adelman was named an assistant coach . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: Sam Bowie, Kentucky, and Bernard Thompson, Fresno State (1st round), Victor Fleming, Xavier, Steve Colter, New Mexico State, and Jerome Kersey, Longwood College (all 2nd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Calvin Natt, Lafayette Lever, Wayne Cooper, a 1985 1st round draft choice and a 1984 2nd round pick to Denver for Kiki Vandeweghe.

Overall record: 42-40 (tie, 9th in league, 5th in conference, 2nd in division)
Home record: 30-11 (tie, 6th in league) , Road record: 12-29 (tie, 13th in league)
Lost to LA Lakers in Western Conference Semifinals (4-1)---Overall Playoff record 4-5

IN REVIEW --- For only the second time in the decade-long tenure of Coach Jack Ramsay, the Trail Blazers failed to win more games than they lost, finishing at 40-42. Still, they made it into post-season play for the ninth time in ten seasons. But Portland couldn't get past the first round in the playoffs, being eliminated by Denver in four games. Offensively, the Blazers were among the tops in the league, averaging 115.1 ppg, behind only Los Angeles and Dallas. But they were near the bottom defensively giving up an average of 114.0 points per contest. From all appearances in late January, the Blazers were enroute to another solid season. They were nine games above .500 on January 25 (28-19) after beating the Kings in Sacramento following a double-OT win over Seattle two nights earlier. Then, things went downhill---fast. They lost 15 of their next 16 games including a string of 12 setbacks in a row, the second longest run without a victory in the franchise's 16 seasons. They won only 12 of their final 35 games and were just 10-8 at home in that stretch. Loss of center Sam Bowie, who missed 44 games including the last 41, had a significant impact. As a rookie the season before, Bowie led the team in rebounding and had established himself as one of the league's top shot-blockers. He underwent season-ending surgery on his leg on February 16.

HONORS --- Clyde Drexler was selected to play in the NBA All-Star Game; he scored 10 points and had four assists and four rebounds in 15 minutes . . . Kiki Vandeweghe ranked 6th in the league in scoring (24.8 ppg) . . . Jim Paxson was fourth in FT percentage (.889) and Vandeweghe eighth (.869) . . . Drexler ranked third in steals (2.63 spg) and 10th in assists (8.0 apg).

KEY DRAFT PICKS: Terry Porter, Wisconsin-Stevens Point (1st round), Mike Smrek, Canisius (2nd), Perry Young, Virginia Tech (3rd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Bernard Thompson to Phoenix for a 1987 2nd round draft choice; Traded Mike Smrek's draft rights to Chicago for rights to Ben Coleman and Ken Johnson; Traded Darnell Valentine and a 1988 2nd round pick to the LA Clippers for a 1986 1st round pick (used to select Arvydas Sabonis) and a 1988 2nd round pick. Signed veteran free agent Caldwell Jones, giving Chicago a 1987 2nd round pick as compensation

Overall record: 40-42 (11th in league, 6th in conference, 2nd in division)
Home record: 27-14 (tie, 8th in league) , Road record: 13-28 (tie, 11th in league)
Lost to Denver in Western Conference First Round (3-1)

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers rattled off two eight-game winning streaks during the season then captured 10 of their last 13 contests to post a 53-29 record for the year, second only to the 58-24 mark set 10 years earlier by the 1977-78 team. A three-time winner of Player of the Week honors, Clyde was fifth in the voting for the league MVP honors and was the first to get All-NBA recognition since teammate Jim Paxson did it in 1984. Kevin Duckworth, who took over the center position when Steve Johnson was slowed by tendinitis in his knees, was named the league's most improved player, raising his scoring average to 15.8 ppg from 5.4 as a rookie. He started the last 46 games and Portland was 31-15 during that run.

IN REVIEW --- On February 18, the Trail Blazers were 25-22 but had lost eight of their last 13 and six of their last 10 at home. At this juncture, assistant coach Rick Adelman, an original Trail Blazer, was promoted to interim coach, replacing Mike Schuler. Despite an unforgiving schedule (Portland played 16 of its first 24 games under Adelman's leadership on the road), and key injuries down the stretch, the Blazers out-dueled Dallas to advance to the playoffs for the 12th time in 13 years. Clyde Drexler continued his evolvement as one of the league's premier performers. He averaged a club-record 27.2 ppg, scored 20 or more points in all but 11 games and topped the 30-point mark 24 times, including a career-high 50 points January 6 versus Sacramento.

HONORS --- Clyde Drexler and Kevin Duckworth were selected to play in the NBA All-Star Game . . . Drexler had 14 points and a game-high 12 rebounds in 25 minutes . . . Duckworth tallied five points in seven minutes . . . Drexler finished fourth in NBA scoring (27.2 ppg), the highest finish ever by a Blazer . . . Drexler was fifth in in steals (2.73 spg) and Terry Porter fourth in assists (9.5 apg).

CHANGES --- Paul Allen purchased the Trail Blazers from Larry Weinberg on May 31; Weinberg became chairman emeritus and Bert Kolde vice chairman; Harry Glickman was promoted to president; Assistant Coach Rick Adelman was named interim head coach on Feb. 18, replacing Mike Schuler; Maurice Lucas retired as a player and was named an assistant coach . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: Mark Bryant, Seton Hall (1st round), Rolando Ferreira, Houston (2nd), Anthony Mason, Tennessee, and Craig Neal, Georgia Tech (3rd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Michael Holton went to Charlotte in the expansion draft; Kiki Vandeweghe was traded to New York for a 1989 1st round draft choice; Signed free agents Adrian Branch, Danny Young, Brook Steppe and Clinton Wheeler.

Overall record: 39-43 (17th in league, 8th in conference, 5th in division)
Home record: 28-13 (tie, 17th in league) , Road record: 11-30 (tie, 15th in league)
Lost to LA Lakers in Western Conference First Round (3-0)

IN REVIEW --- Portland capped a stellar season under the leadership of Rick Adelman, in his second full season as head coach, by winning the Western Conference championship and taking on the defendingchampion Detroit Pistons in the NBA Finals. The Trail Blazers compiled the league's second best record, 59-23, including a 24-17 road mark. They gained momentum as the season progressed, winning 21 of their last 26 games, a run that included a 10-game winning streak and a sweep of a four-games-in-five-nights eastern road swing. After brushing aside Dallas in three games in the playoff's opening round, the Blazers battled to a semifinal series win over San Antonio. That series featured two big homecourt overtime victories, including a 108-105 thriller in the seventh and deciding game. The Blazers captured their second Western Conference crown when they downed Phoenix in six games, with the series decider a 112-109 cliff-hanger on the Suns' floor. Portland appeared to be on its way to a second world title when it split the first two games with the defending champion Pistons in Detroit. But those hopes were dashed when they lost three straight at home, with the last two setbacks coming by three and two points respectively.

HONORS --- Clyde Drexler was selected on the All-NBA 3rd team and Buck Williams on the All-Defensive 1st team . . . Drexler represented Portland for the fourth time in five years at the NBA All-Star Game . . . Williams was eighth in the NBA in FG percentage (.548) and 10th in rebounding (9.8 rpg) . . . Drazen Petrovic was third in three-point shooting (.459) . . . Terry Porter finished sixth in free throw percentage (.892) and tied for seventh in assists (9.1 apg).

CHANGES --- Brad Greenburg was named director of player personnel and Geoff Petrie vice president for business operations . . . KEY DRAFT PICKS: Byron Irvin, Missouri (1st round), Clifford Robinson, Connecticut (2nd) . . . KEY ROSTER MOVES: Traded Sam Bowie and a 1989 1st round draft choice to New Jersey for Buck Williams; Renounced the draft rights to Anthony Mason (1988); Steve Johnson was selected by Minnesota in the expansion draft; Traded Richard Anderson to Charlotte for Robert Reid; Signed free agent Nate Johnston.

Overall record: 59-23 (tie, 2nd in league, 2nd in conference, 2nd in division)
Home record: 35-6 (tie, 4th in league) , Road record: 24-17 (tie, 2nd in league)
Lost to Detroit in NBA Finals (4-1)---Overall Playoff record 12-9

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers picked up where they left off the previous season when they were in the NBA Finals and captured the attention of basketball fans world-wide. In 1990-91, they posted the league's best record, 63-19, the most wins ever by the franchise. They opened by winning their first 11 games and 19 of their first 20. They took their first eight away from home, extending a road winning streak over two seasons to 12 which equaled the second longest in NBA history. By mid-February, they were 41-9 overall and 26-2 at home. And they continued their dominant league role by winning a club-record 16 straight before having that streak broken with a season-ending loss at Phoenix. Coach Rick Adelman's club was on track to bring Portland its second NBA Trophy. The Blazers defeated Seattle in the opening round of the playoffs then stopped Utah in five games to advance to the Western Conference title round for the second year in a row. But there hopes were dashed when Magic Johnson and the Los Angeles Lakers ousted them in six games.

IN REVIEW --- For the second time in three years and the third time in franchise history, the Trail Blazers were locked in a June battle for the world championship, this time against the defending NBA champion Chicago Bulls. Ultimately, Michael Jordan and the Bulls previaled but not before Portland took them to The Finals series' sixth game in Chicago Stadium. The Blazers finished the regular season with the West's best record, 57-25, and tied for the second most wins overall. In the playoffs, Portland exacted some revenge when it eliminated the Los Angeles Lakers, in four games in first round action. The Lakers had dashed Blazers hopes for a shot at the championship the previous year by defeating them in the Western Conference Finals. A four-games-to-one win over Phoenix in the semifinals put them in the WC title round. This time they would not be denied. After splitting the first four games with Utah, the Blazers won at home in overtime then clinched the series by beating the Jazz on their own floor, 105-97. In the Finals' sixth and deciding game in Chicago, Portland had a 15-point lead going into the final period.. But the Bulls staged the biggest fourth quarter comeback in Finals history to pull out a 97-93 victory and their second NBA title.

HONORS --- Clyde Drexler became only the second Trail Blazer ever to earn 1st team All-NBA honors . . . He was runner-up for both NBA MVP and All-Star Game MVP honors . . . Playing in his sixth All-Star Game, Drexler contributed 22 points, a game-high nine rebounds, and six assists to help lead the West to a 40-point victory over the East . . . He finished fourth in NBA scoring (25.0 ppg) . . . Buck Williams was named to the 2nd All-NBA Defensive team and led the NBA in FG percentage for the second straight year (.604).

KEY DRAFT CHOICES --- Marcus Kennedy, Eastern Michigan (2nd round). KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Acquired Lamont Strothers from Golden State for two 2nd round draft picks; Signed free agenst Robert Pack and Ennis Whatley; Waived Danny Young.

Overall record: 57-25 (tie, 2nd in league, 1st in conference)
Home record: 33-8 (6th in league) , Road record: 24-17 (tie, 2nd in league)
Lost to Chicago in NBA Finals (4-2)---Overall Playoff record 13-8

IN REVIEW --- Despite an adversity-filled season for Coach Rick Adelman and his players, the Trail Blazers posted their fourth straight 50-win season, going 51-31. Injuries took their toll: Leading scorer Clyde Drexler missed 33 games due to injuries and starting forward Jerome Kersey 17. Separately, those numbers represented more missed games than the entire starting five in any of the previous three seasons. The total of 58 games starters were out with injuries forced Adelman to employ 21 different opening lineups during the season. Last year, he had the luxury of having to use only five different starting units and having his top five regulars miss a total of just 10 games. On top of having to continually juggle his lineups, Adelman had to deal with two deaths in his family during the season---his brother-in-law and his father---and with allegations of sexual misconduct by four of his players during a road game. Still, the Blazers gave Adelman his 200th career victory on November 22, allowing him to reach that plateau faster than any coach in NBA history. And, he was able to guide Portland to its 15th playoff berth in 16 seasons. However, for the first time in the last four post season appearances, the Blazers failed to make it past the first round, losing out to San Antonio in four games.

HONORS --- Clifford Robinson, second leading scorer on the team while starting only 12 games, was selected winner of the NBA's Sixth Man Award, receiving 89 of a possible 98 first place votes . . . Terry Porter received the NBA's J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for meritorious service to the community . . . Porter and Clyde Drexler played in the NBA All-Star Game . . . Porter was seventh in the league in 3-point percentage (.414) and Robinson ninth in blocked shots (1.99 bpg).

CHANGES --- Brad Greenberg was named vice president and director of player perssonel and Bucky Buckwalter senior scouting consultant. DRAFT CHOICES --- Dave Johnson (1st round) and Reggie Smith (2nd). KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Acquired draft rights to Tracy Murray from Milwaukee in exchange for Alaa Abdelnaby; Signed free agents Rod Strickland, Mario Elie, Joe Wolf and Delaney Rudd.

Overall record: 51-31 (7th in league, 4th in conference, 3rd in division)
Home record: 30-11 (8th in league), Road record: 21-20 (7th in league)
Lost to San Antonio in Western Conference First Round (3-1)

IN REVIEW --- Sixty games into the campaign Rick Adelman had his team in good position to finish above the 50-win mark for the fifth time in as many full seasons as the Blazers head coach. On March 7, Portland was 16 games above .500 (38-22) and on a 10-1 run that included a six-game winning streak, the season's longest. But the Blazers couldn't keep the momentum and down the stretch lost 13 of their last 22 games, including a 4-5 record in their final nine home dates. That gave them a final regular season mark of 47-35 which was still good enough to earn them the seventh seed in the Western Conference playoffs and their 16th post-season appearance in 17 years. But Portland drew red-hot Houston in the first round and the Rockets, who went on to win their first NBA championship, eliminated the Blazers in four games. The deciding contest was a 92-89 loss in Memorial Coliseum. Several new faces figured in the Blazers mix and one of them, center Chris Dudley, was forced to miss 76 games when he suffered a fractured left ankle on November 9, the third contest of the season. Dudley was expected to have a major role in Portland defensive and rebounding plans. The 47 wins left Adelman just nine shy of 300 in his five-plus seasons.

HONORS --- Clyde Drexler and Clifford Robinson represented the Trail Blazers in the NBA All-Star Game. It was Drexler's eighth all-star appearance and Robinson's first . . . Tracy Murray led the NBA in 3-point field goal percentage (.459), only the fourth Blazer to lead the league in at least one statistical category at season's end . . . Rod Strickland was sixth in assists (9.0 apg), and Terry Porter ninth in free throw percentage (.872).

KEY DRAFT PICKS --- James Robinson, Alabama (1st round), Kevin Thompson, North Carolina (2nd). KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Acquired Harvey Grant from Washington in exchange for Kevin Duckworth; Traded Mario Elie to Houston for 1995 2nd round choice; Signed free agents Rod Strickland, Chris Dudley, and Jaren Jackson.

Overall record: 47-35 (tie, 11th in league, 7th in conference, 4th in division)
Home record: 30-11 (11th in league) , Road record: 17-24 (13th in league);
Lost to Houston in Western Conference First Round (3-1)

1994-95 IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers' 25th anniversary season was one of of changes. During the summer, owner Paul Allen selected Bob Whitsitt as the club's new president and general manager following the resignation of senior vice president Geoff Petrie. P.J. Carlesimo, successful coach at Seton Hall, replaced Rick Adelman as the Blazers' head man and Jay Jensen became trainer, replacing Mike Shimensky. Halfway through the season, Portland's all-time scoring and rebounding leader Clyde Drexler, a four-time NBA all-star, was traded to Houston. The Blazers opened the season by winning two games over the Clippers in Yokohama, Japan--- the second and third times Portland had played regular season games outside U.S. borders. And, they played their final game in the familiar environs of Memorial Coliseum , defeating Golden State 116-83 on April 23. Their last game in the MC before moving to their new quarters in the Rose Garden in the fall came on May 2, a 117-109 playoff loss to Phoenix. In between the Yokohama tipoff and the playoff finale, Portland posted a 44-38 record and earned its 18th playoff berth in 19 seasons. With the 44-38 finish, Carlesimo became the first coach in 25 years to jump directly from the college ranks to the NBA and post a winning record in his first season.

HONORS --- Rod Strickland finished fourth in the NBA in assists (8.8 apg) and Otis Thorpe fourth in field goal percentage (.565).

Carlesimo head coach, and Rick Carlisle, Johnny Davis and Dick Harter assistant coaches; Jay Jensen was appointed the team's fourth trainer. Harry Glickman became president emeritus. DRAFT PICKS --- Aaron McKie, Temple (1st round), Shawnelle Scott, St. John's (2nd). KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Traded Clyde Drexler and Tracy Murray to Houston for Otis Thorpe, draft rights to Marcelo Nicola and a 1995 1st Round draft pick; Signed free agents James Edwards, Negele Knight and Steve Henson; Waived Negele Knight .

1995-96 IN REVIEW --- Coach P.J. Carlisemo's charges staged one of the biggest late-season turnarounds in franchise history to keep a remarkable string of playoff appearances intact and boost the club's final record above the .500 mark for the 17th time in 19 years. On March 5, the Blazers were eight games below the break-even point (26-34) and were mired in a streak where they had won only five of 18 games and had dropped a team-record six in a row at home. With 22 games remaining, they were six full games behind in the race for the eighth and final post-season playoff berth in the West. Starting with a 117-105 victory over Sacramento on March 8 and a 113-108 double-overtime win over Indiana two nights later, Portland went on a tear, taking 13 of 14, including a season-high seven in a row. The Blazers won 18 of their last 22 games to finish 44-38 and gain the sixth seed in the playoffs. The season opened with the Blazers inaugrating their new Rose Garden home floor on November 4. They lost that game, 92-80, to Vancouver before 21,398 fans.

HONORS --- Arvydas Sabonis was named to the NBA All-Rookie first team, the first Blazer to earn the honor since 1984-85; the 31-year-old Sabonis was runner up for both the NBA Rookie of the Year Award and the Sixth Man Award . . . Chris Dudley became the second Blazer in four years to win the J.Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award for exemplary service to the community. . . . Sabonis was seventh in the league in FG percentage (.545) and Rod Strickland fourth in assists (9.6 apg).

CHANGES --- Jim Paxson was promoted to assistant general manager. DRAFT PICK -- Shawn Respert, Michigan State (1st round). KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Signed 1986 1st round draft choice Arvydas Sabonis ; Signed Gary Trent, Milwaukee's 1995 1st round draft pick after acquiring draft rights in exchange for draft rights to Shawn Respert and a 1997 1st round pick; Acquired Randolph Childress and Bill Curley from Detroit in exchange for Otis Thorpe; Signed free agents Anthony Cook, Reggie Slater, Dontonio Wingfield, Rumeal Robinson and Elmore Spencer; Waived Reggie Slater and Anthony Cook.

Overall record: 44-38 (13th in league, 6th in conference, 3rd in division)
Home record: 26-15 (tie, 10th in league) , Road record: 18-23 (12th in league)
Lost to Utah in Western Conference First Round (3-2)

IN REVIEW --- For the second year in a row, Coach P.J. Carlesimo's club came on strong in the final two months of the season to nail down a playoff berth, this time the fifth seed in the West. Only a game above.500 going into the last day of February, the Blazers proceeded to go on an 11-game winning streak, the second longest in club history, and finished the season by taking 20 of their last 25 games. The spectacular run included a 13-2 record in March, the team's best ever for that month and the second best percentage for any month in club history. It was the eighth year in a row and the 18th in the last 21 that the Blazers had won more games than they lost and the 15th consecutive playoff appearance, the longest current streak in the NBA. Carlisemo came into the campaign with one of the league's youngest and least experienced teams and a roster included only four back from the previous year. The 49 victories made Carlesimo the third winningest coach in Blazers history (137-109), behind Jack Ramsay (453-367) and Rick Adelman (291-154).

HONORS --- Rasheed Wallace was third (.558) and Gary Trent 10th (.536) in the NBA in field goal percentage . . . Kenny Anderson was 10th in steals (1.98 spg).

CHANGES --- Elston Turner was named an assistant coach after Johnny Davis became head coach at Philadelphia.

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers made it to the Western Conference Finals for the first time since 1992 and posted the league's third best-regular season record (35-15) in a lockout-shortened slate that beganin February and ended in May. After the first two months, Portland boasted the league's best record at 23-5 and was 14-1 at home. Mike Dunleavy was NBA Coach of the Month for March after his team posted the most wins ever for the month (15-3) and matched the most for any month in club history. April's record of 10-4 equaled the franchise's highest number of wins for that month. The Blazers won nine in a row on their own floor before losing, the best start at home since 1977-78, and their overall homecourt record of 22-3 equaled the league's best for the season. The best run of the season came in early March when they went 6-0 in a challenging eight-day span, including back-to-back overtime wins at home vs. Utah and on the road at Sacramento, and a three-game sweep of a rare back-to-back-to-back set of games. After sweeping the Phoenix Suns in three games in the playoff's First Round, Portland upset No. 2-seeded Utah in the WC Semifinals, taking the Jazz in six games. Hopes for a shot at a second league title were dashed by eventual NBA champion San Antonio which captured all four WC Finals matchups.

HONORS --- Mike Dunleavy was named NBA Coach of the Year, and forward Brian Grant winner of the league's J. Walter Kennedy Award for outstanding community service and charitable work . . . Rasheed Wallace was sixth in the league in field goal percentage, and Walt Williams fourth in three-point shooting.

CHANGES --- Added Tim Grgurich as an assistant coach. DRAFT PICKS --- None. Both picks traded in the 1998 deal with Toronto for Damon Stoudamire, Walt Williams and Carlos Rogers. KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Signed free agents Jim Jackson, Gary Grant and Brian Shaw; Waived John Crotty.

Overall record: 35-15 (3rd in league, 3rd in conference, 1st in division)
Home record: 22-3 (tie, 1st in league), Road record: 13-12 (tie, 6th in league)
Lost to San Antonio in Western Conference Finals, 4-0

IN REVIEW --- Three losses---two of them on the basketball court---clouded an otherwise outstanding season for the Trail Blazers who recorded 59 victories to match their second-best best finish in franchisehistory. The biggest setback came May 5, just two days before the team opened its semifinal playoff series against Utah, when popular assistant coach Bill Musselman lost a six-month battle with a rare disease, primary systemic amyloidosis. Two weeks earlier, the Blazers lost their regular season finale at home to Denver, 96-95, and failed to post the franchise's second 60-win season. But the hardest hit happened June 4 in L.A. when Portland came within one quarter of making the club's fourth trip to the NBA Finals. Leading, 73-58, early in the fourth period of the deciding Western Conference Championship game, the Blazers were outscored 31-11 in the last 11 minutes as the Lakers went on to win, 89-85, and advance to the Finals. A lot of good things happened before that. 2000-01

IN REVIEW --- On March 3, the Trail Blazers won their fourth consecutive game, a 122-91 rout of Golden State, had the best record in the Western Conference by a half game and the league's secondbest mark behind the Sixers. They boasted the NBA's best road record at 18-12. Coach Mike Dunleavy's charges were serving notice they were ready to follow their 2000 playoff successes with another run at the Western Conference title. Their glitzy record in early March was fueled by a season-best 10-game winning streak that began just before Christmas and included solid road victories over the Lakers, Utah and Philadelphia. It was part of a run in which the Blazers won 13 of 14 and 17 of 20. However things started to unravel on March 6 with 105-97 Rose Garden loss to lowly Vancouver. That started a stretch run during which the Blazers won only eight of their remaining 22 games and were just 4-7 in contests on their own floor. Rather than securing homecourt playoff advantage, Portland finished eight games off the pace in the conference, good enough for only the seventh seed in the West. That earned the Blazers a First Round faceoff with their nemesis from the year before, the defending world champion Los Angeles Lakers, who swept the series in three games.

HONORS --- Bonzi Wells was 2nd and Rasheed Wallace 5th in the league in FG percentage . . . Wallace registered 2 points, 4 rebounds and 2 assists and 21 points in his second All-Star Game.

CHANGES --- Mike D'Antoni named assistant coach. DRAFT PICKS --- Erick Barkley, St. Johns (1st Round). KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Sent Brian Grant to Miami and Gary Grant to Cleveland as part of a three-team, five-player trade that brought Shawn Kemp to Portland; Traded Jermaine O'Neal and Joe Kleine to Indiana for Dale Davis; Signed free agents Will Perdue and Rod Strickland and re-sgined free agent Gary Grant..

Overall record: 50-32 (tie, 9th in league, 7th in conference, 4th in division)
Home record: 28-13 (tie, 11th in league), Road record: 22-19 (tie, 6th in league)
Lost to LA Lakers in Western Conference First Round, 3-0.

IN REVIEW --- Things were looking grim for the Blazers as they began the new year. On January 2, they lost at home to Toronto to drop their record to 13-18, the farthest below .500 since 1996. First-year coach Mo Cheeks was searching for answers. It was obvious he had found what he was looking for, because by March 23, the Blazers were the hottest team in the NBA. They had gone from five games below to 17 games above the break-even mark; they had won 30 of 38 contests including a 12-game win streak, the second longest in club history. Included in the run was a six-game string of victories on the road, fired by a four-game sweep of Eastern Conference foes. A stretch-run swoon, during which they lost six of eight outings from March 29 to April 12, kept them from reaching the 50-win plateau for the ninth time in franchise history and sent them, as the West's sixth seed, up against their old playoffs nemesis, the Los Angeles Lakers. The eventual world champs swept the best-of-five series in three games.

HONORS --- Damon Stoudamire 4th in the NBA in FT percentage (.888); Rasheed Wallace 7th in FG percentage (.515)

CHANGES --- Maurice Cheeks replaces Mike Dunleavy, becoming Portland's 10th head coach; Herb Brown, Caldwell Jones, Jimmy Lynam, Dan Panaggio are named assistant coaches. DRAFT PICKS --- Zach Randolph, Michigan State; Ruben Boumtje-Boumtje, Georgetown. KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Traded Greg Anthony to Chicago for 2002 second round draft pick; traded Steve Smith to San Antonio for Derek Anderson and Steve Kerr; signed free agents Chris Dudley, Rick Brunson, Mitchell Butler.

Overall record: 49-33 (tie, 8th in league, 6th in conference, 3rd in division)
Home record: 30-11 (tie, 5th in league), Road record: 19-22 (tie, 10th in league)
Lost to LA Lakers in Western Conference First Round, 3-0.

IN REVIEW --- The Trail Blazers got off to a slow start but revved it up big time early in December. Through the seasons's first 16 games, they chugged along at a 7-9 clip and were just 5-4 on their home court. But then during a torrid two-month run leading up to the All-Star break, Coach Maurice Cheek's club was the hottest commodity in the league, winning 22 of 27 games. Fueling the charge was an eight-game winning streak, the longest of the season, and a stunning 13-3 peformance away from the Rose Garden. The Trail Blazers finished the year with second highest number of road victories (23) since making it to the NBA Finals against Chicago in 1992. There was no cool-down after the All-Star break. The Blazers won 10 of their next 16 and were 20 games over .500 (42-22) with a little over a month left. After Scottie Pippen, the Blazers floor leader, went to the sidelines with a knee injury on March 12, Portland finished out by playing .500 ball but still ended up with 50 victories. Pippen was the catalyst in the mid-season charge. With the 16-year veteplayed at the point, the Blazers went 38-16. Making their 21st consecutive post-season appearance, the Blazers with the sixth seed in the West drew red-hot Dallas, a team that had tied San Antonio for the most wins for the season at 60. Portland became only the third team in NBA history to force a game Game 7 after losing the first three in its tough First Round matchup. The deciding game of the series was a battle for 48 minutes with the Mavs pulling out a 107-95 victory after 21 ties and 13 lead changes.Bonzi Wells scored a franchise playoff record 45 points in Game 2.

CHANGES --- None. DRAFT PICKS --- Qytel Woods, NE Mississippi CC; Jason Jennings, Arkansas State; Frederico Kammerichs, Argentina. KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Traded Erick Barkley, Steve Kerr and a 2003 2nd Round draft pick to San Antonio for Antonio Daniels, Amal McCaskill and Charles Smith; signed free agents Jeff McInnis and Arvydas Sabonis.

Home record: 27-14 (tie, 13th in league), Road record: 23-18 (tie, 4th in league)
Lost to LA Lakers in Western Conference First Round, 3-0.

IN REVIEW --- A rally in March and early April when the Trail Blazers won 12 of 16 games wasn't enough as Portland missed making it into the post season for the first time since 1982 and only the second time since winning the NBA title 28 years earlier . . . A tough overtime loss in Denver with three games remaining closed the door on Blazers playoff hopes . . . Battling through a series of mid-season trades of key players and a rash of injuries, Portland still managed a 41-41 finish, its 15th consecutive season and the 25th time in 28 years with a .500 or better record . . . Ten straight road losses got them off to their worst start away from home since 1981 . . . A season high-point was a five day stretch in March when the Trail Blazers beat division leaders Minnesota twice and Sacramento once in a span of four days . . . Twenty-three players saw action for Portland during the season, an all-time franchise record.

HONORS --- Third year forward Zach Randolph earned NBA Most Improved Player honors , leading the the team in scoring (20.1 ppg) and rebounding (8.4 rpg) . . . Zach ranked sixth in the NBA in rebounds . . . Theo Ratliff won the NBA blocked shots title with a 3.61 average and set a a new team standard, averaging 4.4 blocks in just 32 games.

CHANGES --- Steve Patterson was named team president and John Nash general manager. John Loyer, Bernard Smith named assistant coaches. DRAFT PICKS --- Travis Outlaw, Starksville, MS H.S., Nedzak Sinanovic, Bosnia-Herzgovina. KEY TRANSACTIONS --- Traded Bonzi Wells to Memphis for Wesley Person and 1st round draft pick; Traded Jeff McInnis and Ruben Boumtje-Boumtje to Cleveland for Darius Miles; Traded Rasheed Wallace and Wesley Person to Atlanta for Shareef Abdur-Rahim, Theo Ratliff and Dan Dickau; Signed free agent Vladimir Stepania.

Trail Blazing

A RECORD PERFORMANCE --- Bill Walton, MVP of the 1977 NBA Finals, grabbed 23 rebounds, 20 at the defensive end, swatted away eight Philadelphia shots and scored 20 points to lead Portland to a 109-107 win over the Sixers in the deciding game of the 1977 Championships on June 5, 1977. The blocked shots and defensive rebound stats still stand as NBA Finals records 27 years later.

Trail Blazing

HOME COURT ADVANTAGE --The Trail Blazers won all 10 of their home playoff games en route to the 1977 NBA Championship, a league playoff record that still stands. Since then, three other teams have matched that mark---Boston in 1986, the Lakers in 1987, and Chicago in 1996. The 1977 Blazers were 14-5 overall in the playoffs. In Memorial Coliseum they were 2-0 against Chicago, 3-0 against Denver, 2-0 vs. the Lakers and 3-0 in the NBA Finals series with Philadelphia.

Trail Blazing

COMBACK KINGS -- The 1977 Portland Trail Blazers became only the second team in NBA Finals history to rally from an 0-2 start and win the championship. The only other team to do so was the 1969 Boston Celtics, who fell behind the Lakers, 0-2, before recovering to win the series in seven games. Coach Jack Ramsay's Blazers did them one better. After losing the opening two games in Philadelphia, including an 18-point setback in Game 2, Portland swept the next four contests to win the NBA title.

21 IN A ROW --- The Trail Blazers run of 21 consecutive playoff appearances came to an end in 2003-04. The Blazers battled down to the final week of the season before missing the cut for the first time since 1982. Their string of 21 straight is the second longest in NBA history and just one short of the league record of 22 set by the Syracuse/Philadelphia franchise from 1950 to 1971. Longest current streak is now 10 in a row owned by the Los Angeles Lakers. The Trail Blazers have missed the playoffs only eight times in their 34 years in the league with six of those misses coming in the franchise's first six seasons.

With the expansion Charlotte Bobcats becoming the 30th National Basketball Association franchise, the league has been realigned into two conferences of 15 teams each. Each conference is made up of three five-team divisions. Winners of each of the three divisions in a conference are automatic playoff qualifiers with seeding based on best records. The remaining five playoff spots will be seeded based on records of the rest of the teams in each conference.

Brian Wheeler

Radio Play-by-Play

Brian Wheeler enters his eighth season as the radio play-by-play voice of the Portland Trail Blazers. Wheeler's exciting style and trademark "BOOM-CHAKA-LAKA" dunk calls have endeared him to basketball fans throughout the Pacific Northwest. In addition to anchoring the Blazers' radio coverage, "Wheels" also writes a monthly feature for Rip City Magazine and is a regular contributor to the Blazers.com website. He is also a featured speaker and emcee for numerous team functions. Wheeler is in his 22nd year of broadcasting. Prior to joining the Blazers, he spent three years as a member of the Kings' broadcast team in Sacramento, serving as the team's pre and post-game show host as well as handling the play-by-play for a select number of games each season. He also hosted a popular and highly rated nightly talk show, "Wheels After Work" on the team's flagship radio station. He was also the original play-by-play voice on radio and television of the WNBA's Sacramento Monarchs. Before Sacramento, Wheeler spent two seasons working in Seattle as part of the Sonics' broadcast group and also hosted a daily talk show on their flagship radio station. He also has NBA ties to Chicago, where he worked on the Bulls' radio broadcasts in their first championship season. "Wheels" got his start in broadcasting in Chicago, earning a broadcasting/communications degree from Loyola University. He then spent nine seasons as the basketball play-by-play announcer on both radio and TV for his alma mater. His extensive experience in the Windy City also included broadcast stints for the Chicago White Sox, Northwestern University, and SportsChannel.

Antonio Harvey

Radio Analyst

Former Trail Blazer Antonio Harvey joins the Blazers Broadcasting team this season as radio analyst. He will be working alongside familiar play-by-play voice Brian Wheeler in describing all the action on Portland's flagship station KXL and the club's 21 Oregon and southern Washington radio affiliates. Last spring Harvey filled in as a guest analyst on both Blazers radio and television. Antonio played for the Trail Blazers in 1999-00 and 2000-01, averaging 2.3 points and 1.5 rebounds in 31 games. He picked the Rose City as the place to raise his family after 10 years in the NBA. Not drafted by an NBA team, he saw action with the Los Angeles Lakers, Los Angeles Clippers, Vancouver, Seattle and Atlanta, as well as Portland before retiring in 2003. Since then, he has launched two businesses—All-Stars Sports Academy and L.I.Q.U.I.D. Sports Foundation—both focused on engaging young athletes in the game of basketball while mentoring them on life skills, work ethic, discipline and teamwork. He is active in the community, supporting several local charities including Trillium Family Services and the Make A Wish Foundation. He also has returned to the basketball court as a member of the Trail Blazers Alumni team. Harvey, a native of Pascagoula, Mississippi, is a graduate of Pfeiffer University in North Carolina where he majored in sociology and minored in psychology. Antonio and his wife, Kim, have two children, Aryana and Kameron.

Mike Barrett

Television Play-by-Play

Mike Barrett is in his seventh season as a member of Blazers Broadcasting team and his third as the television play-by-play voice of the Trail Blazers on KGW-TV 8 and Fox Sports Net. A 14-year Portland radio/television veteran, Barrett joined the Trail Blazers broadcast team before the 1999-2000 season as the radio studio host, and worked as the television sideline reporter during the team's run to the Western Conference Finals. In the spring of 2000, he became the WNBA Portland Fire's TV and radio play-by-play broadcaster and continued in that role until the team disbanded. A native of Albany, Ore., and a graduate of Oregon State University in 1991, Barrett began his broadcasting career with KUIK-AM 1360 in Hillsboro calling high school basketball games. Three months later, in March of 1992, he became Sports Director at KXL-AM in Portland. While at KXL, Barrett worked morning and afternoon drive sports for seven years, and anchored live broadcasts of the Fred Meyer Challenge, the Cascade Run-off, and Portland Marathon. Expanding his experience in the field, Barrett was also assigned to the University of Oregon broadcast team in the fall of 1993 as the back-up play-by-play broadcaster for football and basketball, and worked as the sideline reporter during football broadcasts for seven seasons. In the fall of 1999, Barrett left KXL, and joined the Trail Blazers as the radio studio host and editor of Rip City Magazine, the official magazine of the Portland Trail Blazers. He has also hosted "Home Court" the television pre-game show, and "5th Quarter" radio post-game show on the Blazers Satellite Radio Network, and continues to host "Courtside Monday Night" along with Steve Jones and Mike Rice. Barrett and his wife, Shelly, reside in Tualatin. They became the proud parents of a son, Jack, this past summer.

Mike Rice

Television Analyst

Veteran head basketball coach and basketball commentator Mike Rice, in his 16th season on the Trail Blazers broadcasting team, this year moves from his familiar spot behind the radio microphone to join Mike Barrett in describing televised action on KGW-TV 8 and Fox Sports Net. Rice, who joined the Blazers in 1991, has teamed with all three Portland radio personalities—first Bill Schonely, then Eddie Doucette and for the past seven years Brian Wheeler. Last spring, he moved across the floor several times to serve as back-up TV analyst. Rice was an honorable mention All-America selection at Duquesne as a senior, when he led the Dukes to a third-place national ranking and an NIT invitation. Selected in the eighth round of the 1962 NBA Draft by the Detroit Pistons, he opted instead to pursue a career in coaching. After posting a 245-71 record (.773) in 13 years at the high school level, Rice entered the college ranks in 1977 as an assistant coach at his alma mater. After being named head coach of the Dukes the next year, he guided them to a 62-49 (.559) record from 1978-1982. Rice went on to Youngstown State in 1982 after leading Duquesne to two NIT appearances and twice-earning Eastern Eight "Coach of the Year" honors. During his five-year tenure there, the Penguins recorded one 20-win season and two second-place conference finishes. Twice his teams reached the title game in the Ohio Valley Conference tournament. Rice moved to the broadcast booth in 1987 as a college analyst for ESPN. A regular on ESPN's "Big Monday" lineup, he provided commentary for the games in the Big West as the primary analyst for the Western Athletic Conference. Rice has also worked women's NCAA regional championship games, the Division II championship game and high school all-star games. In 1989, he added broadcast duties with SportsChannel America as the primary analyst on its World Basketball League broadcasts. The WBL was familiar territory for Rice, who joined the Youngstown Pride in 1987 first as head coach, and later as director of basketball operations. His wife Kathy is a former Duquesne basketball player. The couple has two daughters, Susan and Stephanie, both graduates of Syracuse University, and a son, Mike, who played at Fordham University and now is in his second season as an assistant basketball coach at St. Joseph's in Philadelphia. Before that Mike served on the staffs at Fordham, Marquette and Niagara.

Bill Schonely

Founding Broadcaster/Ambassador

"Mr. Rip City," aka Bill Schonely, for the third year is serving as the Trail Blazers family's on-air Ambassador. The Schonz, who was the voice of the Blazers from their birth in 1970 through the 1998 playoffs, hosts "Blazers Flashbacks" on radio and "Memorable Moments" on Blazers television, looking back at the franchise's hallmark events, and serves in a variety of ways as the organization's ambassador to the community.

Schonely's 30 years with Blazers Broadcasting was the second-longest tenure in the NBA to the late Chick Hearn, the legendary voice of the Lakers. Bill called his last Trail Blazers game on April 30, 1998, a First Round playoff contest with Los Angeles. The next two years he hosted Rip City TV specials and provided sideline commentary during BlazerVision telecasts at the Rose Garden. He was courtside calling the action when Portland played its first ever preseason game on Sept. 24, 1970, in Longview, Wash., and over the next three decades did the play-by-play for 2,522 Trail Blazers contests home and a way.

Shonz was honored as Oregon's Sportscaster of the Year in 2003 by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Associaton. Nine years earlier, he was named Broadcaster of the Year by the Oregon Association of Broadcasters and three times has been honored as the state's Sportscaster of the Year by the OAB. In 1998, the OAB established an annual college scholarship in Schonely's name for aspiring sports broadcasters and writers. In 2002, he was inducted into the Oregon Sports Hall of Fame.

A native of Norristown, Pa., he served in the Marine Corps, and did a sports show for Armed Forces Radio overseas before going to work for Radio Station KVI in Seattle. He was the voice of the Seattle Totems hockey team in Western Hockey League. He also did University of Washington football, Seattle Angels baseball (in the Pacific Coast League), the Oakland Seals in the National Hockey League and Major League Baseball's Seattle Pilots. After the Pilots moved to Milwaukee in 1970, the Portland Trail Blazers came calling. Schonely is involved in helping support numerous charitable causes, including the American Heart Association, Life Flight, and the Oregon Kidney Foundation and is a board member of the Providence Child Care Center Foundation. Bill and his wife, Dottie, make their home in Charbonneau.

Steve Jones

Television Commentator

Steve "Snapper" Jones, one of the most respected and watched NBA analysts, celebrates his 26th season with the Trail Blazers by shifting his roll on the broadcast team to commentator for television and cable pre-game shows. In addition, the veteran sportscaster will again be a part of the ESPN/ABC broadcast crew as an analyst and a commentator for the popular in-studio show, "Hangtime."

Jones' broadcasting career began in 1976 following his retirement as a player when he became a color commentator for CBS. He was part of the network's team that aired Portland's championship game against Philadelphia. He also served as color analyst for the Blazers that season.

Jones' other broadcasting credits include 13 years with NBC Sports, stints with TNT, TBS, USA Network and the Denver Nuggets. Snapper joined NBC shortly after the network obtained NBA telecast rights prior to the 1990-91 season.

A career highlight was his assignment as basketball analyst with Chick Hearn and Jim Durham in Barcelona as part of the NBC coverage of the 1992 Olympic Games. In that capacity he worked the equivalent of almost one-half of an NBA season---36 games in all---in just two weeks.

Jones is a Portland native who led Franklin High School to the state basketball championship in 1959. He went on to a standout career at the University of Oregon, pacing the Ducks in scoring during the 1963-64 season. Jones earned all-star honors during eight seasons in the ABA where he averaged 16.0 points in 640 games and finished his professional playing career with the Trail Blazers in 1975-76.
